President's Message by Nancy Hull

Thanks to SBAA's practiced volunteers, the ingathering for, and the hanging of, the June show at the Faulkner went easily, and the show looks beautiful. As usual, there's a large variety of work, and of the 105 pieces entered, juror Susan Savage selected 73. First place was awarded to Ann Raleigh for her mixed media piece Cantina. The 2nd place ribbon went to Rick Osgood for Early Morning at Florence Square, and Nancy Cole received 3rd for Shattered---. Honorable Mentions were awarded to Patti Post, Ron Abeles, Nancy Yaki, Natasha Lohmus and Rebecca Marder. We're grateful to all of you who participated, to all who picked up their work from the May show on time, and especially to those who returned, on time, to the Faulkner to retrieve declined work. With room to hang only about 75 pieces in the non-holiday Faulkner shows, the juror had many difficult decisions to make, and the show volunteers appreciate your accepting elimination of some of your pieces with good grace.

A good number of you have already returned your membership dues and information sheet, as well as the questionnaire. Beginning next month, concerns, suggestions, and questions that a number of you raised in the questionnaire will be addressed in this message. It will likely be done over a number of months, so please be patient. Also, realizing that some of you aren't acquainted with the SBAA board members, we'll be introducing each to you on this page - that's me, bottom right.

At the June board meeting, one of the topics discussed was the logistics for the July ingathering for the Faulkner; please note that the ingathering, as well as the takedown of the June show, is at an unusual time (1 to 3 PM), so please enter that in all your paper and electronic calendars. Also, please remember that all two-dimensional pieces must be WIRED (no saw-tooth hangers). And, with regret but bowing to liability and other concerns, the board decided that pieces containing live material - plant or animal - cannot be accepted.

Board member Jennifer Ringer agreed to relieve Jacqui Bravo of the job of SBAA's website maintenance, which leaves several volunteer opportunities still available. Our long-time reception beverage wrangler, Larry Mancini, would like to retire from that position, so if you would like to help out, please contact Cathie Smith. This job mainly involves buying and delivering beverages to our Faulkner receptions, and storing such - preferably not in a hot garage - between events. Another slot needing to be filled is that of reception manager for the Faulkner; he/she, with the help of several helpers, sets up, hosts, and dismantles the food and beverage service. I hope you'll consider helping out in one of these capacities; it's a great way to get more involved in the organization.

Stepping into the SBAA presidency is a daunting prospect for me, so I'm very grateful to Cathie Smith and Jacqui Bravo for their continued support and guidance, and to my fellow board members for their dedication and hard work on behalf of the organization.

Nancy Hull, SBAA member since 2014, board member for more than two years, and 2018/19 president, manages the ingatherings.
